TALKED OF 1922 STREET PROGRAM

Telephone, Trolley and Gas Company Representatives Met With Board of Public Works—Sewer in German Street—To Widen Some Streets.

General Manager Ernest R. Acker and Chris R. Lang, of the Kingston Gas & Electric Company, George Whittaker of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company, and Superintendent Harrison of the water department, met with the board of public works at the city hall Friday afternoon to talk over the street program for 1922, as tentatively adopted by the board.

To Willite These Streets.

Mayor Canfield, who presided, said that the plans for street improvement in 1922 included the following streets to be laid with Willite: Elmendorf, O'Neil, Wall street from Main to Henry, Fair street from Main to St. James, Flatbush avenue from Albany avenue to Foxhall avenue, East Chester street from Hasbrouck avenue to Broadway, Delaware avenue except on steep grades, West Union street from Wurts to Hone, and St. James streeet.

These Streets Macadamized.

The board has placed the following streets on the list to be macadamized next year: Wilbur avenue, Greenkill avenue, East Pierpont street, Van Buren street, Abruyn street, Mary's avenue from West O'Reilly to West Chester street, and part of Hone and Hunter streets. Other streets may be added later

Want Cooperation.

Mayor Canfield said that the reason it had been decided by the board to extend an invitation to the various public utilities to be present at the meeting was due to the fact that when they knew what the street program of the board was they could materially aid and cooperate. Where Willite is laid on a street the board does not care to have it dug up to lay water main, sewers or gas mains. To avoid that the board adopted a policy last year to lay out the street work in advance.

A Poleless Street.

Mayor Canfield said that another matter that had been receiving consideration was the great number of poles in the business section. He realized, he said, that the work of removing the poles could only be done gradually owing to the expense as the wires would have to be placed underground. The mayor said that there was about a dozen business blocks where it would be a decided improvement to have the poles removed.

Superintendent Acker of the gas company stated that he was going to do all he could to clear up the distribution system and eliminate poles where possible. In some cases in the business section it was possible to do it by bringing the service in from the rear.

To Be Furnished List.

In regard to the street program Mayor Canfield stated that each public utility would be furnished with a list of the streets to be improved next season.

Superintendent Harrison of the water board believed that where a street was to be permanently improved that the gas, water and sewer mains should be connected up to the curb line so that the property owner could hook on when desired without having the street torn up. In other cities, he said, this work was compulsory.

Mayor Canfield thanked those present for attending and said the list would be mailed.

To Widen North Front Street.

It was brought out at the meeting that North Front street, at the corner of Clinton avenue, is to be widened four feet, and Superintendent Van Keuren expects to start the work next week. This is a bad corner and the widening of the street at that point will assist in preventing accidents.

Dedrick Street Needs Widening.

The board also decided to repair Dedrick street this year if possible, and also to widen the street by taking a part of the Millard corner. At this point the trolley track is so close to the curb line that when an open trolley car went around the corner the running board over-lapped the sidewalk and unless any one standing on the corner stepped back he would be hit by the running board.

Street Repair Permits.

The gas company was given permission to open the street at 495 Albany avenue, on West O'Reilly street for electric department, Ravine street at Hunter, 222 East Union, and 22 Delta Place, to make gas connections.

William Burton was given permission to open Albany avenue, between Foxhall and Flatbush avenues, to install sewer, water and gas for a new house to be erected as soon as the work of building was actually started.

Permission, subject to the usual restrictions, was granted the Shatemuck Realty Company to open 163 Henry street, where a new house is being built, to install sewer, water and gas.

An application from the Senate Garage on North Front street, opposite the Mitchell House, to install two gas tanks under sidewalk, was tabled.

German Street Sewer.

Superintendent Harrison of the water board said that he had been requested by the residents of the four houses on German street, below Hoffman's old brewery, to petition the board to extend a sewer to their houses.

The water board is now extending the water main from Hone street down the hill to the houses where they had been without city water. Several cases of typhoid fever had developed in the families and the board of health believed the cases developed from the water used by the families. It was for that reason the city water main is being extended to the houses so that they will not have to use their former water supply.

City Engineer Codrie was directed to prepare an estimate and ordinance for the work to submit at the next meeting.

Bridge Lights.

The board has contracted with the concern who are to install the lights on the Rondout creek bridge to place two of the ornamental poles on Abeel street, one at each side of the bridge entrance.

Chloroform is believed to have been used by burglars who on Thursday night entered the rectory of St. Patrick's Church in Newburgh, and took more than $400 in money, some of this being property of the church and the balance that of the clergymen in the parish. From the room of the Rev. Father O'Carroll the intruders took about $80—his own money. From Father Connelly they took $300, of which $220 belonged to the church and balance to himself. From Father Burke they took five English sovereigns which he had had since shortly after his ordination.

A FREIGHT WRECK

At Jones's Point Tied Up Traffic On West Shore Friday.

Eleven freight cars left the West Shore Railroad tracks at Jones's Point, below Newburgh, Friday afternoon tying up traffic on that road for several hours. The train, which was a south bound freight, was running at a fast rate of speed when the cars suddenly jumped the tracks. Ties and tracks were torn up for a distance of about 300 feet, and freight cars stood criss cross on the tracks, tying up traffic in both directions. The wrecking crew from Newburgh was called to the scene. The only one hurt, as far as reported, was an unknown tramp who had both legs broken and a hand severed. He was removed to a Newburgh hospital, and is expected to live.

WALTER P. CRANE STANDS ON RECORD

Life and Achievements of Republican Candidate for Mayor Are Open Book to Fellow Townsmen Among Whom He Has Always Lived.

WALTER P. CRANE.

Fifty-six years ago Walter P. Crane was born on Abruyn street, and he is still a resident of that street. During the years that have passed the residents of the city have grown to appreciate the worth and ability of Mr. Crane, who today is the Republican candidate for mayor of Kingston with every indication pointing to his election by a big majority.

As a boy and as a man his home life has been spent on Abruyn street, and he has represented the residents of that section of the city first as a supervisor, and then an alderman, and later the entire city as one of the most efficient mayors who ever had charge of the city's affairs.

There is probably no man who is better or more favorably known in Kingston, and as indications point to the fact that he will again be called upon to handle the reins of city government for the next two years a brief resume of his active and busy life would not be amiss at this time.

Mr. Crane was born on December 23, 1865, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Crane, who are both highly esteemed residents of Kingston, and reside with their son.

Mr. Crane's boyhood was like that of any normal healthy boy endowed with abounding good health, physical ability and strength. As a boy his company was always sought by the other lads as he was of a naturally jovial disposition, full of fun and ambition, with not an ounce of viciousness in his makeup. During these early years he attended the Ponckhockie school, and shortly after attaining the age of fifteen years he went to work for his grandfather, Walter B. Crane, who carried on a lumber business together with a planing mill. The lumber yard was located on the site now occupied by the gas plant in Ponckhockie.

In 1887, the grandfather died and Mr. Crane continued the business alone for about four years when he became associated with A. T. Decker, who at that time was one of the largest yellow pine dealers in New York city. They were associated in business until 1896, when Mr. Decker failed in New York, which necessitated the closing of the business here by Mr. Crane.

For several years Mr. Crane was employed in the department of public works under Superintendent Aldridge.

When forced to give up the lumber business Mr. Crane went into the ice business in the firm of Goodsell & Crane. Later the firm became Crane & Shultis, now known as the Binnewater Lake Ice Company, and carry on one of the largest retail ice businesses in the Hudson river valley.

It was in 1892, that Mr. Crane entered the political field when he was elected supervisor of the old First department of the city, and served in 1893, 1894 and 1895.

In 1904 he was elected alderman from the old Third ward, and served in 1905 and 1906, the term being extended into 1907 by the legislature. It was during the latter year that he was elected president of the common council.

When Mayor A. Wesley Thompson resigned as mayor in May of 1907, Alderman Crane was elected as his successor and served out the term. He was nominated for mayor at the following election and elected by a flattering vote.

Mr. Crane's experience both as a supervisor and as an alderman stood him in good stead when elected mayor and he was better fitted and equipped to give the city the successful administration that he did. It will be remembered that it was during his administration that much needed additions were added to Schools Nos 5 and 6.

The partially paid fire department was also inaugurated under his administration and he appointed the first board of fire commissioners in Kingston.

There are many who recall the condition of Broadway in those days, and especially during the summer months. Whenever there was a dry spell it was a dust-laden thoroughfare, and when it rained it resembled nothing so much as the old fashioned mud puddles that children delight to play in. In the face of considerable objection on the part of those who believed what was good enough for the fathers was good enough for the sons, he brought about the starting of the Broadway pavement, going relief to all who had been forced to use that much traveled thoroughfare.

On October 4, 1910, Mr. Crane was appointed postmaster of Kingston by President Taft, and his administration of the postal arrangements throughout the city met with the approval of all.

Mr. Crane served the city efficiently as the first alderman-at-large. He was elected without opposition to the office when it was created under the provisions of the new charter, and served the full term.

Since 1917 he has been a member of the board of education, serving as chairman of the supply committee of that board.

This year the Republican party in Kingston selected a man who will continue to give the city an efficient administration. There is no man who is better equipped both mentally and physically to carry on the city's work than Mr. Crane. In his years of public service he has proven the right man in the right place.

Mr. Crane has been a resident of Kingston all his life. During these years he has become personally acquainted with the city and its residents. There is hardly a resident of the city who does not know, or who has not heard the most favorable reports of his work, both as a citizen and as a public official.

In old time political campaigns a favorite slogan was "He stands on his record," and that slogan may well be applied to Walter P. Crane, the next mayor of Kingston.

FIRST FREIGHT RATE REDUCTION

Interstate Commerce Commission Cuts 1920 Increase On Hay And Wheat In Half—Western Territory Only Affected But East Is Next.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The first step in the contemplated program of freight rate reductions was taken today when the interstate commerce commission handed down a decision declaring the rates on grain, grain products and hay in the western and mountain (Pacific groups) of railroads to be unjust and unreasonable.

The decision of the commission in effect reduces by one half the rate increases on wheat and hay which were granted on August 26, 1920. The decisions reduce by ten per cent the increases on coarse grain rates that were granted on the same date.

The commission's decision while effective only in the western and mountain-Pacific regions, gives notice that similar reductions may be found just in eastern territory.

The commission announced that an order would be entered in accordance with its finding if that becomes necessary.

"We shall expect the reductions to be made as soon as possible and not later than November 20, 1921," the decision said. It was also stated that rates in conformity with the commission's decision may be published to become effective on not less than five days' notice. If necessary interested parties may bring to the commission's attention any outstanding orders of the commission which may require modification to permit prompt and full compliance with the commission's findings.

The rate increases granted August 26, 1920, which are effected by today's decision were as follows:

Thirty-five per cent increase in the western region; 25 per cent in the Mountain-Pacific region, and 33 1-3 per cent in the regions between.

The railroads will lose approximately $40,000,000 in gross revenue by reason of today's decision, and approximately $32,000,000 in net revenue, according to L. C. Wettling, statistician for the western railroads.

The reductions ordered today approximate two cents on every bushel of wheat and coarse grain, Wettling said.

OLD COMPANY M TO BE MOTORIZED

Two Machine Guns And Eight Automatic Rifles Included In New Equipment—Men Over Age Limit To Be Dropped.

The transfer of Co. M, the local military organization from the First Infantry to the 132nd Ammunition Train will bring about considerable change in the local organization. The new organization will be fully motorized and equipped. When the company is brought up to the required streigth of 70 men and two officers it will be federalized.

At present there are 76 men and three officers in Co. M, but at least ten of the present members are over the age limit and will have to be discharged and their places filled up with new men. When the company is recruited up to the required strength an army officer will be sent here to examine the men and the company will then be federalized.

Tuesday at 12:30 the Adjutant General and staff will be in Kingston and hold a meeting on Pine Grove avenue at the Y. M. C. A. There will be an exhibit of war material and public speaking. Mayor Canfield will be one of the speakers.

The re-organization of the local company into an Ammunition Company will fully motorize the company. The equipment will include 2 machine guns, three motor trucks, one five passenger motor car, two motorcycles and side cars and one kitchen trailer. The men will be equipped with pistols instead of rifles but the company will have eight automatic rifles. It will require four chauffeurs, two motorcycle riders and two mechanics to operate the new equipment.

The entire company will be fitted out with new uniforms. While the present company has three officers the new organization will have but two, a captain and a lieutenant.

Although the new organization will be known as Co I, 132nd Regiment, an effort is being made to have the organization retain the old designation of Co M and it is expected that this change may be made later so that Kingston may retain its old company title. Company M's having figured in the various wars of the country and become a Kingston byword.

At the meeting Tuesday it is expected that a number of the vacancies will be filled as the new company. The motorizing of the company offer attractive openings to the men and it is expected that there will be more applicants than there are vacancies.

"DEAR ME" CAST IS THE ORIGINAL

New York And Chicago Success Presented Here This Evening Offers Rare Treat To Lovers Of Comedy.

Seldom does Kingston have the opportunity of seeing two such well known stars as Grace LaRue and Hale Hamilton, who appear at the Kingston Opera House tonight with the rest of the original cast intact which for six months in New York and five months in Chicago presented the famous John Golden comedy, "Dear Me."

The trilogy of Golden productions, "Lightnin'," "Three Wise Fools," and "Dear Me" is one of the most remarkably sucessful comedy-series ever staged in America. Kingston theatre-goers this fall have had the opportunity to witness both of the other successes and "Dear Me" at the Opera House tonight affords them the chance of seeing the third of the famous series with the original cast.

Grace LaRue has starred in many successes, the best known of which is "Dear Me." She is acknowledged to be the smartest-gowned star on the stage today. Hamilton, as the creator of Get-rich-quick Wallingford, has a reputation second to none.

The matinee performance this afternoon attracted a large house, with every indication for another warm welcome for the stars tonight.

600 Trainmen On I. & G. N. Strike.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Acting on information which they declare gives them ground for belief that the strike ordered by the Big Four brotherhoods October 30, will be called off, executives of the railroad unions in the American Federation of Labor announced today that the 1,500,000 railroad workers whom they represent will defer strike action at this time.

They charged that the brotherhoods' action "has been a bluff from the start," and that the other unions refuse to "play their game."

In event the October 30 walkout materializes, they declared the railroad unions representing more than two-thirds of the workers will not follow the brotherhoods unless they have an iron clad joint agreement of action which will insure that no one group will make separate settlement until the demands are all satisfied.

Although the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employes have already declared for strike, E. F. Grable, president of the organization, announced today that it will act in concert with the other unions.

"All organizations will get their machinery ready to prepare for eventualities," said Grable, "but they are not going to plunge into something until they know what is what. There seems nothing to do now but to defer action until developments in the railroad labor board and until we learn whether the brotherhoods are really going on with their strike program. We don't want to be put in the position of ordering the men out October 30 and then cancelling the order.

"If the brotherhoods' strike does materialize the question of getting assurances from them of joint action and joint settlement will be brought up by the other unions."

Some of the shop crafts, it was learned, are in favor of deferring strike action until next spring.

SHOPMEN WILL NOT JOIN STRIKE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The railroad shopmen will not join in the strike called by the "Big Four" brotherhoods and the switchmen, it was authoritatively learned today.

Official announcement of the decision of the shopmen not to strike at present will be made during the day, it was expected.

Executives of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor, which includes the shopmen, reached this decision after a week of discussion. A meeting of the general chairmen is scheduled for 2 o'clock this afternoon and it is expected that B. M. Jewell, president of the department, will announce that his organization will not strike at this time and will issue a public statement.

The decision of the shopmen to refrain from striking makes the strike, if one is called, strictly a brotherhood affair. Although the maintenance of way employes and one or two other unions have voted in favor of a strike, it is considered certain that they will defer action in view of the position taken by the shopmen.

Telegraphers and clerks are scheduled to hold meetings today and are expected to join with the shopmen in their reported decision to hold aloof from the present strike.

While no officials of the department would be quoted in advance of official announcement by President Jewell, it was learned that the absence of any agreement with the strike for the reported action of the strike was the factor chiefly responsible for th reported action of the shopmen. It was also said that protests have come from many members of the shopmen's unions against joining in the strike.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

COPYRIGHT BY WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION

ABSENT-MINDED ALICE.

Alice was very absent minded. She did everything to make herself remember things instead of forgetting them, but nothing seemed to help her. She tied a string around her finger and a knot in her handkerchief, and then she wondered why she had put the string around her finger and the knot in her handkerchief.

But even more than forgetting things she would forget even herself at times when she should have been thinking of herself and what she was doing.

And because many times she had done this she was known as Absent-Minded Alice.

Alice was never intentionally rude. She was never anything of the sort. She liked people and she wanted them to like her. Yet often she would forget to speak to people whom she had met before.

And her absent-mindedness had become a habit. She hated that little invisible creature called Habit. Habit had such strong clutches and was so powerful and made such headway when no one was noticing.

Habit did things little by little, too, so no one was hardly aware that Habit was around until one saw that Habit had succeeded in having things so that it was almost impossible to oppose him.

Alice knew that Habit had a cousin or a brother—she was not quite sure of the relationship—who was known as Good Habit. Good Habit made it easy for people who were his followers.

"Oh Dear, Oh Dear."

For example, Good Habit made it so nice for those who were in the habit of keeping their rooms in order. He saved them so much time. They always knew where everything was, because Good Habit had helped them to make it a habit to be tidy, and it was a simple thing to be so.

In this way Good Habit was a friend of Alice's. Alice's toys were always in just such a place—her doll's house was in perfect order—her doll's clothes were always to be found just where she had put them. She never forgot these things because Good Habit had helped her in forming this habit.

But alas, Good Habit wasn't around with Alice at many other times. The brother or cousin w... Yes, and both of them were equ... rong—only it depended which yo... ade a friend of, to be sure.

The trouble with Alice was that she tried to be friendly with both.

Yes, Bad Habit was the one who laughed when he was absent minded, and who really didn't like it because Good Habit was a friend of hers in some ways. Bad Habit didn't like Good Habit to have anything to do with his friends. Bad Habit and Good Habit had started off with the same ideas and the same ways—but they had both chosen different paths after they had been adventuring through life only a little distance. And they had continued along their own ways.

"It's so silly a thing to be," said Alice to herself. "I have to spend a lot more time doing things, because I am absent minded and making up for what I've forgotten to do. Oh dear, I'm just not going to let that bad little Habit creature control me any longer."

Perhaps the fly-paper on the side table heard her. Fly-paper has never been known to have ears, but in this case Fly-paper certainly did seem to understand in a remarkable way what was going on.

At any rate Alice had walked over to the Fly-paper and, in trying to see something out of the window beyond the side table, she had put both her hands on the Fly-paper.

"Oh dear, oh dear," Alice said, as she worked and worked to get the horrible stickiness off. "If I hadn't been absent minded I would have noticed that fly-paper. I simply won't be absent minded again, ever, ever, ever!"

Without a doubt Good Habit overheard that speech. He is a great admirer of strength of character. But the Fly-paper also deserves a great deal of credit.

Alice was never absent minded again. And whenever she spoke of the earlier days in which she had been so absent minded she always gave the Fly-paper the credit for having cured her.

"There was something about the Fly-paper," she would laugh, "that stuck to the lesson it taught long enough to make an impression!"

World's Judgment Day at Hand

"millions now living will never die"

—Judge Rutherford

THE NATIONS of the earth have been weighed in the balance and found wanting, therefore Jehovah is pouring out His wrath upon them. This "wrath" of Almighty God against the nations is revealed in the terrible events commencing with the World War, "but the end is not yet," for the Scriptures unequivocally testify that the fierceness of His anger must burn against present evil systems until all be consumed.

THIS NATIONAL judgment is but the prelude to the "times of restitution spoke by the mouth of all the Holy Prophets since the world began," during which every individual will be placed on trial for life or death.

YOU are involved in this Judgment Day and if you are living a few years hence, when the Kingdom of God is fully established, you may be one of the millions now living who will never die. Therefore, do not fail to hear

Medical officers attached to the squad are authorized to issue transportation to all men directed to report to the Clean-up Squad for physical examination; this transportation will be from the claimant's home to the place of examination and return; and if hospitalization is necessary, transportation from the place of examination to the hospital. Of course, men will be furnished with transportation to their homes upon discharge from the hospital.

Transportation will not be furnished to men appearing before the Clean-up Squad merely for the purpose of determining the status of their claims, or to men appealing from a decision or disallowance or to those seeking an increased compensation award, except in rare instances where it is clearly established that the circumstances surrounding the case warrant the applicant in appealing to the Clean-up Squad. In such instances of course transportation will be furnished by the bureau.

World War veterans who desire any further information before the Clean-up Squad reaches Kingston may obtain the same at the Red Cross Headquarters, No. 44 Main street, Kingston.

Origin of Boot Heels.

Boot heels are of Persian origin, and were originally attached to sandals in order that the wearers might keep their feet above the burning sands. Heels nine inches high have been known. When high heels were introduced in Venice they were called "chopines," and were highly decorated. The height of the "chopines" proclaimed the rank of the wearer.

The decision of the United States Steel Company to expend $10,000,000 in improvements and extensions of its plant as a means of providing immediate employment for an additional number of men, has a double significance. In the first place, this will be a considerable factor in relieving the unemployment situation and will start much other industry in motion Then, too, the decision to expend the money in expansion is conclusive evidence that the managers of the steel company, who are able business men and good judges of the economic situation, have confidence in the fundamental soundness of our business affairs and believe that the future justifies the investment This will increase confidence among business men interested in other lines of industry.

Four years of active service in looking after the public business of the town of Hardenbergh has given William E Avery a thorough understanding of the work which the Republicans of the town were quick to recognize by selecting him for renomination.. Mr. Avery has brought to the office keen business ability, sound judgment, sincerity of purpose and unquestioned honesty. Men of his high character should be retained in public office because they regard public office in its true light, as a public trust. The town is the mainspring of government and the operation of a sound business government there means that county government will be conducted along lines which are satisfactory to the taxpayer. During his four years of service as supervisor Mr. Avery has conducted town and county business in accordance with sound business principles with the result that every taxpayer shares the benefit of his work. The continuation of that work should not be interrupted. It can best be accomplished by his re-election.

Although smallest in size of any of the wards of this city, the Thirteenth Ward exerts a large influence in county affairs because of the ability of its able supervisor, George Schick, whose renomination by the Republicans of the ward is a high tribute to his record. Mr. Schick is serving his fifth term as supervisor and during all of that time he has rendered faithful service to his constituents and to the city and county. His record on all public matters has shown an intimate knowledge of all the departments of county government and his experience has been a valuable asset. The people are appreciative of service such as he has rendered and they know the best way to show their appreciation is by returning him for another term in order that he may continue the good work in their behalf. The man or woman who pays the taxes has a close personal interest in knowing the record of the men who spend their money. To all such people the record of Mr. Schick is satisfactory.

A record of able executives covering a long period of glorious history was continued by the town of New Paltz when it chose Eugene Van Wagenen for supervisor and his nomination by Republicans of the town this year should be followed by his election in November by a majority which will fittingly bespeak the high esteem in which he is held. As a business executive Mr. Van Wagenen possesses ability which is evidenced by his daily work. In whose performance he has been for a long time the recipient of the utmost confidence which one man is enabled to place in another. He is thoroughly in touch with every enterprise which helps to sustain the prosperity of the town and in this way is in better position to know the needs of the community he is called on to represent. His past experience in town and county affairs, first by appointment and then by election, will not be overlooked by the taxpayers of New Paltz to whom his election for the ensuing two years will mean the satisfying knowledge that their public as well as their personal affairs are in safe hands.

Like the rugged mountain peaks which abound there, the town of Deposit has produced many stalwart men whom she has selected to look after town affairs at home and in the board of supervisors. From among the younger men who have proved their reliability and worth in town affairs the Republicans have selected Martin Hamilton as the town's standard bearer and he has been nominated for the important office of supervisor. Mr. Hamilton's record in the positions he has occupied shows that full dependence can be placed on him. No important mission entrusted to him ever has been neglected and he has performed his duty creditably. The old adage, "Faithful in little, faithful in much," is just as true today as when it was first written, and Mr. Hamilton can be depended on by his constituents always to remain true to whatever trust may be imposed on him. The interests of the taxpayers will be well served by him and his election by a rousing majority will show the rest of the county how Denning rewards her faithful officers

AN EFFICIENT OFFICIAL.

Two years ago Rudolph C Dittus was elected alderman-at-large on the Republican ticket. He has filled the office in an efficient manner that has met the approval of the city at large. This year Mr Dittus has been nominated by the Republican party to succeed himself, and he should and will be elected by a large majority The experience that has been his as president of the common council for the past two years has been such that today he is better qualified to fill the office than ever before During his two years' service he was worked for the best interests of the city. He has come into close contact with the city's affairs and knows its needs He is acquainted with the problems that must be met Mr Dittus has proven an honest, capable and efficient city official and the voters will make no mistake in marking a cross alongside his name on election day.

1. Which of the monkeys is most like a human being?

The West African Gorilla, the Orang-outang of Borneo and the Chimpanzee from Africa, are the three apes (not monkeys) nearest mankind. Of these the last two seem most manlike in faculties though the Gorilla's gait and limbs are similar to man's in many points. The Chimp has large ears and black hair; the Orang brown skin, red hair and small ears.

2. Please recommend something to plant to cover an ugly patch of ground with poor soil?

If you want something creeping close, try Pachysandra terminalis, an herb with small shiny leaves that will make a growing carpet. It is a perennial.

3. How much harm do crows do?

On the whole, as a tribe, no great harm and much good. 909 stomachs examined by the U. S. Biol. Survey, through 12 months, showed 29 per cent of grain for the whole year, 21 per cent of this being corn eaten in winter months, from waste. More than 23 per cent for the whole year was insects, mostly harmful. The balance was wild fruit, seeds, animal substances, etc. Some individual crows are troublesome and should be shot, if convicted of theft.

JUDGE ROSCH MEASURED UP

Liberty Man Had Necessary Training and Ability When Called to Supreme Court Bench by Governor Miller.

JUDGE JOSEPH ROSCH.

During the trial term of the supreme court which he held in Kingston in March, Judge Joseph Rosch of Liberty, Sullivan county, had the opportunity of becoming acquainted with many of the men of Ulster county, but there are hundreds of others who desire to know more of the Sullivan county justice who is one of the nominees of the Republican party for justice of the supreme court in the November election

Judge Rosch was born at Wurtsboro, Sullivan county, December 9, 1879. He received his early education in the public schools of Wurtsboro. From 1896 to 1898 he attended high school at Middletown, Orange county, and during that period, while not in actual attendance at school, he worked in his father's blacksmith shop. In September, 1898, he entered the Buffalo Law School from which he was graduated in May, 1900, with the degree of LL. B.

After his graduation from the Buffalo Law School he studied law with the well known law firm of G. G. & J. B. Keeler, of Ellenville, both of the members of which firm are remembered by many of the older residents of Ulster county as having been for many years among the most active members of the legal profession in the southern part of Ulster county. Later for a long time he was managing clerk of a law office at Buffalo and, in September, 1991, he was admitted to the bar.

After his admission to the bar, Judge Rosch practiced for a time at Wurtsboro and later at Port Jervis. About seventeen years ago he moved to Liberty, where he had a most successful general law practice at the time of his appointment to the supreme court bench by Governor Miller in January of this year as successor of the late Judge Emory A. Chase of Greene county, who was elected judge of the court of appeals in November of last year.

Judge Rosch married Ethel Bruce Forsyth of Thorold, Province of Ontario, Canada, and they have three children, Eugene, 17 years old; Ethel Winifred, 12 years old, and Joseph Alton, 10 years old.

Socially, Judge Rosch is a member of the New York State Bar Association, the Sullivan County Bar Association, the New York State Historical Association and the Republican Club of New York city. Fraternally he is a member of Mongaup Lodge, No. 816, Free and Accepted Masons of Liberty; Kalurah Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of Binghamton; the Odd Fellows Lodge of Wurtsboro and the Liberty Tent of Knights of the Maccabees.

The amount of litigation in Sullivan county has increased with the population and industrial and commercial growth of the county. When a vacancy occurred on the supreme court bench in the Third judicial district by reason of the election of Judge Chase of Greene county to the court of appeals bench, Sullivan county presented its claim for consideration of Governor Miller, who recognized their justness. To those who know Judge Rosch and who witnessed the manner in which he conducted the March trial term of the supreme court, his pre-eminent qualifications for the position he now holds and for which he is a candidate for election have been apparent.

How much his neighbors, who necessarily must know him better than anyone else, think of Judge Rosch is set forth in the following memorial which was adopted by the Sullivan County Bar Association and presented to Governor Miller in support of the county's request that it be accorded one of the justices of the district. The resolutions were as follows:

Whereas, the election of Judge Chase as a judge of the Court of Appeals will create a vacancy in the judgship of the Supreme Court in the Third Judicial District of the State of New York, and whereas a condition exists in Sullivan county which imperatively demands that it have special consideration in the matter of the dispensing of justice because of the greatly conjested condition of its calendar and because of other conditions which are well known to the lawyers, litigants and judges of the district, and

Whereas, it will become the duty of the governor at the beginning of the year 1921, to appoint a Supreme court justice to fill the vacancy, caused by the elevation of Judge Chase, therefore it is

Resolved, That the Bar Association of Sullivan County unanimously and without regard to political affiliation or other consideration save the eminent fitness of the man himself, do recommend the Hon. Joseph Rosch, of Liberty, New York, as a man eminently fitted by experience and ability to fill the office with credit to the Judiciary, and honor to himself and his fellow citizens, and respectfully urge his appointment to fill such vacancy.

Resolved, that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this association and that a copy thereof be transmitted by the secretary to the Hon. Nathan Miller.

Hurry!

"I know the people are behind me!" cried the parlor Bolshevist. "And if you don't move quick they'll catch up to you," responded a menacing voice from the audience.

A tribute of respect and homage from Italy to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt was paid by General Almando Vittorio Diaz, head of the Italian Army, when he placed a wreath of flowers on the grave of the former president at Oyster Bay. Accompanied by a party of over one hundred persons, many of whom were in the uniform of the American and Italian military service, General Diaz displayed a keen emotion at the memory of Roosevelt. He said: "At the tomb of Roosevelt no speech can be made. Only an expression of the deepest homage I bring from my country. During his life he was adored, and at his death he was beloved of everybody." The photo shows General Diaz saluting, after placing a wreath on the tomb of Theodore Roosevelt.

THE WEEK AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

In an animated senior meeting Tuesday afternoon at the high school, John S. Tremper was elected editor-in-chief of the "Maroon," the senior class oracle. After an equally animated discussion, the election of business manager was postponed. This important position will be filled by election at the next meeting. The subject of rings was also dispensed with as an attractive design has been selected.

Wednesday morning Dr. Boerker, formerly in government employ as a forester and weather observer, but now a member of the faculty of the school as a science instructor, gave a vivid discourse on present day conservation and the approaching peril of extermination of our now well depleted forests unless a course of nation-wide conservation is pursued. Dr. Boerker explained that not only by extravagant usage of our natural resources are we weakening our land but by the total lack of wise forestry as is the case in the Adirondack Mountains. Thousands upon thousands of magnificent pines are blown over in heavy gales and allowed to decay because the present state constitution does not permit the cutting of these trees. Dr. Boerker's speech came as a plea for a larger enrollment of students in the conservation club of the school.

The executive committee of the senior class met Wednesday at the close of school and the advisability of projecting a senior play was discussed. If the plans for the play receive a favoring vote in the next senior meeting, a corking good production will be presented in the future, as the ability of Miss Noone and Miss Carter as coaches will be exactly what is needed. There is also considerable latent talent in the class which, under Miss Carter, is asserting itself.

Thursday morning in lieu of Mr. Dodge's customary song treats, Miss Carter presided supplemented by three seniors and a delightful program was offered.

LeVan Haver was the first speaker with an original production, "The Crew Race." From start to finish this selection was splendid. Mr. Haver proved that as well as being a "cub" reporter for the morning paper he can speak excellently. Following Mr. Haver, Alfred Meyers's "The Highwayman" was given by Miss Mary Swart. This poem deals with romance and in a romantic manner was it rendered.

Richard Harding Davis is a writer of humorous stories and a reading of his "Traver's First Hunt" was Miss Genevieve Birmingham's offering. Gales of hearty laughing were extracted from the student body by Miss Birmingham who spoke in a commendable manner.

Friday morning again found the seniors in power and more speaking was their indulgence. Beginning with Miss Helen Goldwasser who with "The Pantomime" in a praiseworthy style, the speaking progressed without a hitch. Another of Robert Service's war poems "The Quitter" was introduced by William Hardenbergh in a real manly manner. Vernon Beehler can do other things besides play football as was evidenced by his oration of Thomas Nelson Page's "A Soldier of the Empire." There is always something pathetic in the discovery of a man and a dog in abject misery, each comforting the other with his presence, and with bated breath the entire assemblage listened to Miss Katharyn Dean's reading of "Patches" by F. E. Norris.

Friday noon an event while entirely a novel experience in the lives of the new freshmen, occurred which merely marked another milestone passed by the upper classmen. The report cards were distributed. These reports give in the fairest possible degree the advancement made by the students. For the benefit of the parents whose children have just entered high school it may be interesting to know that these marks decide in a certain measure whether or not the student will be advanced at the end of his freshman year.

Another mass meeting was called Friday afternoon to stir up enthusiasm among the students for Saturday's double-header and new cheers were inoculated into the cheering sections.

Friday evening the annual Prisma party was tendered to the freshmen girls from 7:30 until 10, the proper hour for the donning of night caps by every freshman. Old fashioned games were in predominance and about 150 girls in all were in attendance. The gymnasium was quaintly decorated with orange and black Hallowe'en streamers, golden pumpkins and the inevitable black witch perched on her broom.

The seniors are to have a gay "hop" after the Poughkeepsie game next week and a cordial invitation has been extended to all Poughkeepsie high students who may care to attend. The dance will start promptly at 8 p. m., and will be decidedly a couple affair. The alumnae are also invited as it is the desire of the social committee to make the first dance of the class of 1922 a memorable event. Tickets may be obtained from various members of the class.

Helen Rosenfeld — Alma Dornfeld

Seven young women, nurses at the West End Hospital, Chicago, are on the verge of death as the result of having eaten home made candy impregnated with cyanide of potassium, one of the most deadly poisons known. The candy had been sent anonymously through the mail to Miss Helen Rosenfeld. Whether the young women will survive depends, according to the doctors, on the amount of cyanide absorbed by the system of each. Under ordinary circumstances all would have died within a few minutes, but the candy was eaten within the hospital, where physicians were available immediately to administer emetics. It is the belief of the police that a rejected admirer of Miss Rosenfeld sent the poisoned candy. The photo shows two of the victims.

Invest in Government Securities, Says Postmaster.

Kingston, October 22.

Dear Fellow Citizen:

It takes courage to offer advice regarding money matters, but the suggestion I offer you really comes from the United States government, through me as postmaster.

I want to recall to your mind that you may obtain at this office treasury saving certificates which our government is continuing to offer its citizens as a means of protecting their savings. I wonder if you are aware that $500,000,000 was literally swindled from the people of the United States last year, much of it in small amounts. We should profit from this experience.

You can obtain, through this post office, treasury savings securities in denominations of 25c, $1, $5, $25 and $100, some of which are described herein. It will be a pleasure for us to accommodate you. May I suggest that you make a business of investing in these securities systematically.

Very truly yours,

W. C. DEWITT,
Postmaster.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs on Thursday afternoon at the Kingston City Library, Mrs. Rice, the president, presided. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Hebert acted as secretary for the day. Mrs. Van Wagenen, the treasurer, reported $178 in the lecture fund and a balance of $45.19 in the regular Federation account. Letters were read from Mrs. A. C. Guigou of the city and Mrs. Ida F. M. Brown of Detroit, tendering their resignations which were accepted. A letter of acknowledgment was also received from W. Scott Gillespie and Mrs. Harry Schoonmaker. A further communication was also read from Miss Herbert the Kingston City librarian, in behalf of the library trustees, expressing their thanks for the money given by the Federation to the library for the purchase of books.

Dr. Mary Gage-Day, chairman for the Public Health Committee, in behalf of the Ulster County Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis, asked the Federation to undertake, again this year, the house to house canvass for the sale of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seals, in the city and the executive committee voted to do the work as the Federation has done the past two years.

It was voted that the committee should go on record as voting "No," to Constitutional Amendment No. 1, known as the "Veteran Preference Bill," on the ground that it was opposed to good reconstruction work.

The president thanked the executive committee for the privilege granted her of attending the recent State Federation meeting in Buffalo, and said that she would give a brief report of the convention at the open meeting of the local Federation. It was unanimously voted to reimburse the president for her expenses for attending the convention.

In November the District Federation meeting will be held in this city and tentative plans for the same were made. An entertainment committee composed of Mrs. W. N. Fessenden and the presidents of the clubs and committees was appointed.

Announcement was made that the Atharbacton Club would entertain the Federation at the October open meeting, at the chapel of the First Reformed Dutch Church on Saturday afternoon, October 29th. At that time they will present the noted poet and essayist, Richard Le Gallienne. The public as well as Federation women are most cordially invited to be present at the chapel at 3 o'clock on the date named, to hear Mr. Le Gallienne. He will give readings from his own poems and prose works. The business session will begin at promptly 2:15 o'clock in order that business of importance may be transacted before 3 o'clock, the hour set for Mr. Le Gallienne.

The meeting then adjourned.

Dangerous Curve Ahead

Married Life is Just One Danger Curve After Another

Most motion pictures end with a marriage. But here's one that begins with a marriage—a marriage of just two such young people as started then great adventure next door to you this summer.

Any wife will laugh a lot and cry a lot—when she sees it. Husbands will come away from this picture with a deeper understanding of what their young wives have to cope with. Fathers and mothers will chuckle and weep over it.

There are dangerous curves that every married couple must take. What are they? How can they be rounded without a crash? Perhaps you think you know.

"Dangerous Curve Ahead" shows them to you cleverly, lightly, yet with a deep insight into human hearts.

Author and director worked for one year on this picture. Together they evolved the many little touches that make it so amazingly life-like.

The first serious quarrel!—When a young wife slams the door and bursts into tears what CAN a husband do? Which gives in first?

Do You Know The Ten Great Dangers of Married Life?

1. The Daily Divorce: Every morning he has to leave her for the office, and every evening he has to go to sleep early so as to wake up early so as to leave her alone again in a hurry.
2. The Office Overtime: Harley now has two bosses if either makes him late, the other makes it hot for him.
3. The Loneliness of the Bride: Phoebe finds that it takes more than a husband to kill the girl in a woman's heart.
4. The First Baby: Phoebe learns that there is a lot beside poetry about bringing up babies.
5. The Midnight Marathon: Harley used to laugh at this. But now he discovers how much human misery it takes to make an old joke old.
6. The Suddenly Diminished Importance of the Husband: After the baby's arrival Harley sometimes wonders whether he is a bachelor or a widower.
7. The Cataract of Bills: Harley finds that nobody gives a Daddy any credit except the tradespeople. They have to.
8. The Long Business Trip: It means for Harley, the Big Chance; but for Phoebe, more loneliness, and—
9. The Old Lover: Phoebe feels virtuous when she snubs him, but when he snubs her, she feels vicious.
10. The Lure of High Society: There are three Phoebes: the loving wife, the devoted mother, the social aspirant. Which wins?

RUPERT HUGHES writes:

"As in my picture, "The Old Nest" it is life itself that provides the difficulties and the heart-breaks. This is a sort of Pilgrim's Progress. I have tried to picture the life of every girl in the experience of one girl, and to show how tortuous a motor-road existence is. As soon as one dangerous curve is rounded another waits ahead."

"The Old Nest" was a portrait of the American mother. "Dangerous Curves Ahead" shows the American daughter venturing out to build a nest of her own.

An Unsolicited Tribute from

FANNIE HURST

Author of "HUMORESQUE"

My Dear Mr. Rowland:
Metro Pictures Corporation.

I came away so thrilled and moved by THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE that I had the same feeling I experienced the first and only time I saw Sarah Bernhardt. I didn't want to go home, but to walk miles and miles under the spell of what I had seen. I may seem a bit superlative in my appreciation of this film but to me it amounts to a climax in the entire history of the screen. Last night marked a birthday! The eighth muse had come of age. Mr. Ingram, Miss Mathis, Mr. Ibanez, every one in fact connected with the masterpiece, is to be congratulated to weave that enormous story into a tapestry the size of a motion picture screen, and at the same time to keep its integrity of form, purpose and beauty in artistry raised to the nth power.

I'm a rather querulous picture goer, not half satisfied with conditions, but seeing the "Four Horsemen" has renewed my faith in the enormous potentialities of the screen.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) FANNIE HURST

ULSTER COUNTY VOTERS

SUPPORT A RESIDENT OF YOUR COUNTY.

VOTE FOR

ROSCOE IRWIN

FOR JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT.

Former Collector of Internal Revenue.

Voters of Ulster County without reference to political affiliations ought to support Mr. Irwin, a home man. He has resided in Ulster County for thirty-three years and there isn't a candidate from Ulster County running against him. In addition, the judiciary is considered non-partisan in character and party lines are not drawn so closely in voting for Justices of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Irwin's record is his platform and he has faithfully performed his duty in every public office held by him. As the Knickerbocker Press said editorially when Mr. Irwin resigned as Collector of Internal Revenue: "Roscoe Irwin, the retiring Collector, won for himself a flattering reputation in office. His efficiency, and especially his courtesy and his consideration, enforcing the laws in a manner that was ever kindly, even though firm, made him as well liked as he was widely known * * * Business men and the public in general will know how to appreciate such wise and skillful service as is afforded by this office."

The exact accounting of hundreds of millions of dollars superused by Mr. Irwin was certified by expert Government auditors from President Harding's Administration who stated: "It is a great pleasure to report that the Albany office is in excellent condition. The stamps and lists are in perfect balance. * * * Former Collector Irwin's active and personal attention to the affairs of the office made the prevailing condition possible."

Voters of Ulster County ought to feel proud in having such a candidate and should give him undivided support on Election Day.

You will find his name FOURTH in Section 2 on the official ballot.

The Sandwich Appetizer.

The long-established European custom of taking an appetizer before dinner, in the form of a wafer-like sandwich and a light beverage has many points in its favor. The "sideboard," as it is called, can be most tastefully served on a daintily appointed tray. When a meal begins with a nut soup or a chilled fruit, the gathering for the "sideboard" is the most satisfactory way for the housewife to be sure that all the family are ready to take their places at the table. The sandwiches are made of very thin slices of buttered bread. Serve these with a glass of iced grape juice.

Roof of Washington's Home.

The wood shingle roof on George Washington's home at Mount Vernon was repaired by him in 1785 and was not again repaired until 1909—a life of 75 years, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. There have been many instances found where shingle roofs have lasted satisfactorily for 50 years and even 100 years. It is not at all unreasonable to attribute such a lifetime to cedar when we consider that the old sarcophagi in which some of the Egyptian kings were buried 3,000 years ago are still found in fairly sound condition.

Exploring the Word "Rogue"

Rogue is thought to be a corruption of the French language, Latin language, and was applied in French America to the natives of the aborigines. Another derivation is from Borgheus or Italian who founded the southwestern states with counterfeit money. Rogue is also the name of a drink made from rum and molasses

YALE MEETS ARMY TODAY

Bulldogs Under Jones's Tutelage, Get Severe Test When Hard Hitting West Pointers Visit New Haven.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 22.—A fighting Yale Bulldog stalked on the trail of a tough and leathery Army mule here today.

Yale met the Army in one of the most unique and picturesque football games on the 1921 schedule and the promise of a battle royal hung in the balance.

A monster, brilliant and expectant crowd of more than 70,000 ardent football fans started its march on the huge Yale bowl before noon, for this was the piece de resistance of the football season to date. Bright, crisp weather, ideal for football was on tap for the game.

The Yale bulldogs, having been rebuilt and coached under Tad Jones's new system, are a team of uncertain qualities, yet a combination with a terrific punch. But the value of Jones's system and the real strength of Yale's new eleven has not been tested and it was up to Army to test it today.

The West Point cadets, mostly seasoned veterans left over from last year's eleven make up a tough, fierce driving machine with wonderful attacking power. The Army line is something of a stonewall and the Army offense is as versatile as it is persistent. Yale supporters, with confidence supreme in Tad Jones, felt that the Bulldogs would win, but everyone looked forward to a real battle.

New Haven put on its holiday attire for today's occasion. Army vs. Yale is an innovation. The sight of West Point cadets, in Yale bowl, proud, erect, perfect in their evolutions is something new for this man's town, and New Haven appreciated it. Merchants decorated their shop windows. Citizens hung out pennants. Hotel lobbies were jammed and restaurants teemed with crowds.

The West Point military band arrived here this morning with the cadets. Yale had two Rosemaking organizations on hand to add to the tumult in the bowl and the crowd was ready to do its share of rooting. There's patriotism in rooting for the army. There's sentimentalism in rooting for Yale. The crowd was thrilled with both.

The rival teams and their coaches looked upon today's game in sober contemplation of what they considered a problem and an experiment. This game was sort of a mid-season priming affair for big games to come but the winning of it was none the less important, especially for Yale.

Before the battle calculations of the strength of the two teams showed Yale with the best back field and the Army superior on the line. With Cross, Datty, McKay, Herr, Stores, Quale and Norris on the side lines because of injuries Yale was weaker than the Army from tackle to tackle. Army was not without her regrets, however, for French her great fullback, was out of today's lineup to all intents and purposes. Coach Daly did not name him as a possibility in the early lineup.

The official party representing West Point at today's game was to include Secretary of War Weeks, General McArthur, commandant at West Point, General Clarence R. Edwards and United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, an ex-Yale baseball captain.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Dr. F. B. Quinlan is spending a month's vacation at Saratoga Springs and Glens Falls.

Miss Helen L. Styles of 131 Clinton avenue, who has been enjoying her vacation at Toms River, N. J., has returned.

Mrs. Walter C. Burger of 46 St. James street is at the City of Kingston Hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis, and is getting along nicely.

MUSIC AND BOXING PLEASED LEGION

Plans Made for Armistice Day Service and Ball in the Evening—Block Party Cleared $890.

Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of that organization held their regular meetings at the armory Friday evening and each organization discussed plans for future work which they will take up.

The Legion post decided to omit the service at the Kingston High School auditorium which has been held on the Sunday following Armistice Day for the past two years, and in its stead to attend a service on the morning of Armistice Day at the Holy Cross Church. The service will be held at 11 o'clock and the members of the Post will assemble at the armory that morning in time to march to the church in a body. The service will be conducted by the Rev. Gregory Mabry, chaplain of the Post.

Plans for the Armistice Day ball are progressing satisfactorily and there is every indication that it will be more successful than the previous balls held by the Post on Armistice Day.

A standing committee was appointed to arrange for an entertainment to be given hereafter at the close of each business meeting.

At the regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Post, total net receipts of three hundred and ninety dollars from the block party which opened the membership campaign in September were reported, and the membership of the Auxiliary was reported to have been increased by about forty. A committee was appointed to assist the members of the Post in arranging for the Armistice Day ball.

At the close of the meeting, the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary were invited to attend the entertainment given by the Post. An inspiring address was delivered by Chaplain Mabry, vocal solos were rendered by Harry Clearwater and Herman La Tour, a piano solo by Mrs. Florence Cubberly and a duet by Messrs. Clearwater and La Tour. This was followed by two three-round boxing matches, the first between Young Hyatt and Battling Featherstone, and the second between James Howard and Young Ruzzo. David Long acted as timekeeper and Thomas Coughlin as referee.

The meetings of both the Post and the Ladies' Auxiliary were the most largely attended of any since the formation of either organization.

William, upon the refusal of his father to stop mistreating the girl, picked up the shotgun and shot the older man in the back of the head. The Orange county grand jury refused to indict the son, as told in Friday's Freeman. Mr. Tunney was a galvanizer in the employ of the Erie railroad and formerly worked at Parker's Glen as a stone cutter.

PREACHER BUDD FLIVVERED AWAY

George W. Budd, a local preacher of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Kerhonkson, who by courtesy was permitted to use the title "Reverend," has disappeared from his home at that place and Ulster county officials and others who have been conducting a search for him have been unable to find any trace of the man. Budd's wife and daughter, who are at Kerhonkson, have not the slightest clue as to where he went or his reason for leaving home.

That Budd intended to make at least a stay of some length is indicated by the fact that he packed his grip with additional clothing and withdrew his savings from the Ellenville Bank. He went away in his flivver, but nobody knows the direction he took. The theory of the Ulster county officials is that Budd went west.

Budd left home on the morning of Friday, October 7. It is a coincidence that on the same day Miss May E. Terwilliger of Mombaccus disappeared from Kingston, where she had been attending the rural teachers' institute at the Kingston high school, as related in Friday night's Freeman. The routes taken by both Budd and Miss Terwilliger are unknown and no trace of either route has been found by officials and detectives who have been at work on the case.

Besides being the regular supply at the Kerhonkson Methodist Church, Budd supplied the church at Mombaccus, where Miss Terwilliger was organist and a member of the choir.

About a year ago Budd was acting pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Esopus, where he had many warm friends. Prior to that time he had acted as supply for different churches in Sullivan county, where he was also well known. When the vacancy occurred in the Kerhonkson Church, he was designated as supply there, also supplying the Mombaccus Church.

He withdrew his money from the Ellenville bank several days before leaving home.

Budd is 61 years old, was of good build, weighed about 175 pounds and was about five feet and eight inches in height. He is of dark complexion. His hair is black, tinged with gray. The gray is quite noticeable on the sides of his head. He wore his hair quite long at the back so as to draw it over and cover a bald or partly bald spot on his head. His moustache is black, very thickly mixed with gray; it was quite heavy on account of the space between the nose and the lip but it is said he kept it short-trimmed most of the time.

Budd has black eyes and regular features. His head is well down on his shoulders and he had a tendency to or was inclined to look down when walking. He walked with rather a slouchy gait.

Officials have not been able to learn what clothing Budd wore at the time of his disappearance, but it was found that the following of his effects were missing: A tan traveling bag about sixteen inches long, a black suit, dark suit, dark blue soft hat which he invariably wore well down on his head, a dark heavy winter overcoat, a dark colored cloth raincoat, underwear, shirts, socks, etc.

Efforts to find the number of the license plate of the flivver with which Budd went away from home have been unsuccessful. Although the state of New York employs many persons to handle the records of license plates, it has no cross-reference system, so that up to this time it has been impossible to get from official sources the information which his family and neighbors lack but which might be of great assistance in tracing the whereabouts of the missing preacher.

Tremper, the newly appointed assistant grand lecturer, and Mrs. George B. Main, the worthy matron, on behalf of the chapter presented Mr. Tremper with an appropriate gift. Mrs. George D. Hudler gave several humorous recitations and Mrs. Samuel N. Mann sang two delightful soprano solos. There was a large attendance at the session and a social hour was enjoyed and cake, coffee and ice cream was served. Plans for holding the rummage sale at 597 Broadway all next week starting Tuesday were discussed and the worthy matron appointed various members to take charge of the sale on the various days. YALLUM BUYS FIERO STOCK

The stock of the bankrupt estate of A. W. Fiero, 128 Partition street, village of Saugerties, was sold at auction Friday by Walter M. Jacobson of New York, receiver. The stock consisting of boots, shoes, dry goods, gents' furnishings, etc., was struck off to Morris Yallum of lower Broadway, Kingston, whose bid was $325. The liabilities of Fiero are about $2,000. Henry Klein of this city is attorney for Fiero. An oil stove that was lighted to keep those at the sale warm was bid on by one of the men attending the sale but he was told there was a claim against the oil stove, whereat Attorney Klein informed the bidder if he bought it he "would burn his fingers." The oil stove therefore was not sold.

"Buds" Declaration.

"Bud" who had just started to school, thought it very smart to use big words. His sister was told to stop his hands when he was naughty, so one day he came in furious and said: "There is absolutely no philosophy in sister sitting on me the way she does. She must be made to stop it."—Chicago Herald and Examiner.

More than 7,000 members of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, with eight patrols and eight bands, clad in the gay colors of the Arab desert tribes, accompanied by the imperial potentate and other imperial officers Friday afternoon staged one of the most colorful and inspiring spectacles ever seen in Albany.

Several days ago Mrs. Kathryn Boice of Fair street entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Dutch Church at her camp, "Moonbeam Lodge," in the Catskill Mountains. It was an ideal day and the beauty of the foliage was at its height. While some roamed the woods for ferns and mosses, others toasted their feet before the open fire place, and still others played cards on the porch. A bounteous repast was served and at 4 o'clock the autos started for home, all proclaiming they had enjoyed a most happy day. Next Wednesday Mrs. John Weise will entertain the Aid Society at her camp at Legg's Mills.

A delightful party was held at the home of Pearl Archambault, 35 Sycamore street, October 21, in honor of her 8-year birthday by 18 of her chums. Games were played and dancing was enjoyed by all. The remarkable beauty of Mrs. Lillian Hendrick of Washington, D. C., named in a $1,000,000 alienation suit brought by Mrs. Dorrit Van Deusen Stevens Woodhouse of Burlington, Vt., "is the cause of all her unfortunate troubles and attendant publicity," according to Mrs. David Hendrick, mother of the girl. Mrs. Woodhouse's suit was brought against Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Woodhouse, her husband's parents, who, she charges, sought to alienate her husband's affections from his wife and to form an alliance with Mrs. Hendrick. Mrs. Hendrick is a divorcee.

MRS. MARIA ZUCCA CASSELLA

The ardent suitors of an insistent wooer have implied that Zucca, composer, pianist and prima donna, to decide that, after all, marriage will not interfere with her career. She married Irwin H. Cassella, of Miami, millionaire owner of a chain of Florida department stores, in Stamford, Conn., on September 22. The news of the wedding has just been made public. The romance began several years ago when Mr. Cassell heard Miss Zucca in a musical play.

Oiled Axles Stop Friction.

Wheels with ordinary axles actually run on films of oil. When the axle is greased under the microscope its surface, which to the eye is smooth, really is covered with depressions and lumps. So, too, with the inside of the hub of the wheel. If the wheel were allowed to run without oil the lumps of the axle and on the hub would rub together and cause friction. This would wear the axle and hub to the core heated and expand and stick. Oil fills the depressions and makes the surfaces slippery.

Dimples Times Defects.

A dimpled cheek is considered a mark of beauty, but in reality is caused by a defect in the tissues which lie under the skin. The dimple is a pit or depression in the skin on part of the body where the flesh is soft. The tissue under the skin is composed of fibers which help to hold the skin firm. These fibers are not uniform in size and sometimes they will be a collection of the shorter fibers all in one spot.

Education is the only solution for the economic, political and social ills of the world, Dr. Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., declared at his inauguration. "The spread of knowledge is essential to the survival of our modern democracies," Dr. Farrand declared. "The world is being tried with fire, society is in revolution. Our civilization is not only under indictment, it is fighting for its very existence." Dr. Farrand was formerly president of the University of Colorado and for two years chairman of the American Red Cross.

Discoverer of Finger Print.

Sir William J. Herschel, grandson of the English astronomer, Sir William Herschel, is known as the discoverer and developer of the finger print system of identification, now in general use as a method of identifying criminals. Sir William J. Herschel, who died in England in 1917, was an official in the civil service in India from 1855 to 1859, and discovered the use of finger prints in 1859, initiating it as a means of identifications for civil purposes in Bengal.

DIED.

In loving memory of Charles Wolfersheim, who entered eternal rest October 23, 1918.

From over the shadowy river.
The voice of our Saviour said "come."
Angels are waiting to guide you
Through the valley, safely home.
He left us to answer the summons.
It seemed so hard to part.
We miss him more as years go by.
Each thought means an aching heart.

In Memoriam.

In sad and loving memory of our dear son Stephen Miller, who entered into rest October 23, 1918.

Days of sadness still come o'er us.
Tears in silence often flow.
The memory keeps him ever near us
Though he died three years ago.
Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all.
He is remembered as well today
As the day he passed away.

Dear daddy you have left us, but it was God's holy will, in our memory you are with us. In our heart we have you still. Oft and oft, our thoughts do wander to your grave, not far away, where they gently lowered your body, just three years ago today

"RIVER OF POWER" TOLD OF BY BEAL

800 Miles of High Tension Transmission Lines From Ravena to Peekskill—Ten Power Stations Connected Up—Rifton Development On Big Scale.

The Newburgh News says:

In an interesting address before the Kiwanis Club in the Palatine Hotel in Newburgh, on Thursday, President T. R. Beal of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company outlined the remarkable development of electrical service the past decade in a manner which proved very informing to the business men present.

Mr. Beal called attention to the club's motto "we build," and said it might well be considered the motto of his company, since its principal ideal is to build up a service which should not only be completely satisfactory but should also be one of the greatest factors in the upbuilding of the communities in the Hudson river valley.

Tracing the growth of the electrical business, the speaker said that it was within the past 30 years that electric service had been developed to its present state of efficiency, and he showed how the use of high voltage transmission lines had made possible the connecting together of numerous communities so power and light could be obtained from central sources of supply.

Perhaps the beginning of the great Central-Hudson system might be said to have started with the consolidation of the Poughkeepsie and Newburgh systems in 1912, connection being made later with the Honk Falls water power system to afford sources of relay power in cases of the failure of other stations. In this connection Mr. Beal referred to the recent development at Rifton Falls, but his remarks through lack of time failed to do adequate justice to the splendid work which has been done in Rifton in the way of ensuring to this and other cities the advantage of electric power at a reasonably economical rate and with the assurance of a never-failing service.

Laymen who have visited the Rifton station are amazed at the efficient methods used in the way of converting water power into electric current and the arrangements made to ensure immunity from interference with the supply of current during thunder storms and other atmospheric disturbances. Moreover it is understood the Rifton plant is but a small part of the entire power scheme for this valley, a scheme the conception of which largely belongs to Mr. Beal, though he modestly refrained from speaking of his own part in the development

At present the Central Hudson valley is connected by over 300 miles of high-tension transmission lines, connecting ten power stations, making a virtual "river of power" available for industry all the way from Ravena to Peekskill. The Central Hudson Company and its related units are now supplying all the industrial current required, all the "excitation" for telephone and telegraph service in this locality, all power for pumping water, besides lightening the housewife's burden in thousands of homes through the adoption of electrical household appliances. In addition to this, it is to be remembered this electrical development had made possible an almost smokeless territory in this section.

Meet Ka-Be-Nah-Giznay Wenea, or, in real U. S. words, John Smith. He is known to all the northern tourists and is considered to be the oldest living man in the world. His almost fossilized skin shows that he must have forgotten some birthdays. His home is at Case Lake, Minnesota, though he spends much of his time in a shack near Minneapolis. He was born in Michigan and boasts that he has already buried nine wives. He is looking for another squaw.

Children's Photographs Taken in the Home By An Albany Artist

A representative from the Obenaus studio of Albany is showing samples of home and child portraiture. Appointments for the sittings are arranged and one extra large portrait is presented with all orders placed at this time. The prices are very moderate compared with most photographers doing this class of work. If you wish a truly good portrait of your child taking them in the home is the only means of securing a natural expression. Mr. Obenaus has specialized in the photographing of children for more than twenty five years his studios are well known throughout the entire capitol district. A temporary branch office is now located at 160 Fair street, Kingston until a permanent studio is completed. If our representative should fail to see you telephone 1602 W. and a special effort will be made to have you called up.—Advertisement.

General John Pershing

(By International News Service.)

This was a picture of a promising young captain in the United States Army who later became famous as our own General John J. Pershing. How the years do change the appearance of a person! A real old-timer, Emma Calve, will appear later.

The distinction of commanding the world's largest ship, the 56,000-ton Majestic, now nearing completion for the White Star Line, to ply between New York and Southampton, has been conferred on Sir Bertram Hayes, at present commander of the Olympic. Both ships are owned by an American concern, the International Mercantile Marine Company. The Majestic was built by the Germans, to lead the merchant fleets of the world, and while still unfinished was turned over by them to the Reparations Commission, under the Versailles Treaty. She is 956 feet long and her interior space is equal to that of 400 eight-room suburban houses. Sir Bertram Hayes, a native of Birkenhead, is fifty-seven years old and a bachelor. He has many friends in the United States.

Birds and Cyclones.

One naturalist has expressed the opinion that birds habitually make use of storms in traveling from one part of their range to another. He points out that if a bird cannot find shelter, it must be more comfortable on the wing than on the ground during a storm, because in the fiercest gales the air, as a mass, is at rest; that is, the bird is in a moving, supporting medium, like a swimmer in a strongly-flowing river.

CHICAGO ELEVEN INVADES PRINCETON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 22.—Bill Roper's Princeton Tigers, crushed by the Navy last week, will attempt to stage a comeback into the elite of the football world today at the expense of the University of Chicago in the biggest intersectional gridiron classic of the year. The Maroons will be a hard test for the sons of old Nassau.

The game has undoubtedly aroused more interest than any other of the big sectional clashes this year. Eastern football followers are eager to see one of the most prominent representatives of the western conference in combat with a member of the "big three." The Maroon has one of the best teams in its history and the prospects of Coach Stagg are considered to be the brightest since 1912, when the windy city had its last championship team.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be present. Early trains brought hundreds. Special trains were run from New York.

An almost steady stream of automobiles poured into town all morning, bringing rooters. The Chicago eleven will not be without its supporters. A goodly number of Chicago partisans have come along to see Stagg's team face the Tigers and hundreds of former westerners now living in the east journeyed here today.

'PHONE CO. TO ASK BOND ISSUE

The New York Telephone Company is about to file a petition with the Public Service Commission of the state of New York asking its approval of an issue of $50,000,000 of refunding mortgage twenty year gold bonds to bear interest at the rate of not more than six and one half per cent per annum payable semi-annually. If approved this issue will be known as Series "A." The principal will be payable on October 1, 1921, and ten years from the date of issue the bonds will be callable as whole at 105 and accrued interest. Provision will be made for retiring the bonds from year to year if they can be purchased but they will not be callable by the sinking fund trustees. The bonds will be secured by a mortgage subject to prior liens to the Bankers' Trust Company of New York as trustees. This mortgage will be a lien on all property and franchises of the company in the state of New York. The proceeds of the sale of Series "A" bonds will be used solely for the acquisition of property and for the extension and improvement of the company's facilities for giving telephone service. Under the terms of the mortgage payment of the principal and interest on the six per cent debenture bond issued by the company in February 1919 will also be secured and provision will be made for such subsequent issued of bonds as may be required for subsequent acquisition of property and extension and of plant and business and for the payment and refunding outstanding obligations of the company.

The week of services led by the Rev. Walter S. Maggs, Evangelists assisted by W. S. Stahler, singer, were a delight to all, and resulted in quickening the religious life of many and the conversion of souls. We will hope and pray that the work may continue.
